Silent as the purr of a kitten

"Soothingly silent" is the way one woman described the Willcox & Gibbs Electric Automatic. Its silence is indicative of its fine construction. And there is such satisfaction in having no bobbins to wind and no tensions to adjust, and in seeing the beautiful, strong seam that it sews. Call at our store and see it in operation, or simply phone us for a free demonstration in your own home.

Miss Hoffman Pleases

Congressional Club.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Edward King of Illinois, the Congressional Club had the pleasure of hearing Miss Hoffman of New York in a song recital at the club, the largest audience of the season being present.

Miss Hoffman's program included "Thou Brilliant Bird," from the "Pearl of Brazil"; the "A Forse lui," from "La Travita"; "Chanson Provencal," by Dell Acqua; "L'Heure Exquise," Hahn, and a group of interesting folk songs. She has a coloratura soprano voice of rare beauty, and she sings with all of the abandon and facility of execution of an artist. Her high E flat, in the "Travita" aria, was as clear as a bell, and her runs veresmooth, brilliant and flexible.

Besides a rich voice Miss Hoffman possesses a vivid, moving personality and an appealing charm that completely captivated her audience.

Miss Ruth Rappoport, her accompanist, also from New York, played with understanding, sympathy and brilliant technique and added much to the success of the recital.
